RULES

- Cream is the default. A white page stops looking like us immediately.
- Chilli is a seasoning. One eyebrow, one hero word, one button. Three red things fighting means it's gone wrong.
- Never pure black or cool grey. Ink is warm on purpose.
- Lime only on dark. Unreadable on cream.

PRODUCT COLOURS

- Margarita — Forest #14522A
- Paloma — Coral deep #C95F52
- Spicy Margarita — Chilli #A00000
- Non-Alc — Lime on dark, Leaf on light

BEVAN — DISPLAY · HEADLINES ONLY · ALWAYS UPPERCASE

REAL TEQUILA. NO BS.

Never a paragraph. Never below 16pt. Never lowercase. Never letterspaced beyond .01em.

OSWALD — EYEBROWS, LABELS, BUTTONS, NUMBERS

SHARE OF COOLER BOX

MARGARITA · PALOMA · SPICY · NON-ALC

The wide tracking is not optional — it's what makes it ours rather than just Oswald.

WORK SANS — ALL RUNNING TEXT

Real tequila and real juice in a can, built for the cooler box. Two cans on a Saturday, no bottle, no shaker, no mixing.

400 for body, 600 for emphasis, italic for asides. Nothing heavier. Cap the lede at 46 characters per line.

WORDS WE USE

tequila · real juice · cooler box · braai · ice · cold · Saturday · grab-and-go · no mixing · the good stuff

WORDS WE DON'T

premium · crafted · elevated · indulge · unleash · journey · curated · sip · tantalising · perfect for any occasion

THREE TESTS

- Could this be any other drink?
- Would she screenshot it, or scroll past?
- Does it look like a friend made it, or an agency?

Compliance before every post. Nobody under 25 in frame with a can, nobody drunk, no vehicles, no other brands, 18+ on every boost.

CAPTION SHAPES

THE FLAT STATEMENT

Two cans, one cooler box. That's the whole plan.

THE OCCASION

Fresnaye. Braai. Third round of palomas.

THE FACT

Real tequila, real lemon and lime. Nothing else in it.

Most captions under 15 words. The first line is the only one most people read.
